

It's time for Continental and United to start flying cleaner.

Continental and United say they share “a common focus on protecting the environment.”

But given a chance to cut pollution and save money, these airlines are dragging their wings.

They're even suing European governments over common-sense rules to save jet fuel and reduce air pollution.

So, Continental and United: Instead of wasting money on PR and lawsuits, why not join in the effort to make our world cleaner?

Learn more at edf.org/aviation

Environmental Defense Fund is known for working with leading businesses to find solutions that are good for business and the environment. A Financial Times global study of 850 business-nonprofit partnerships named EDF the #1 environmental partner.

United and Continental Airlines are registered trademarks of United Continental Holdings, Inc.

EDF
ENVIRONMENTAL DEFENSE FUND
Finding the ways that work

